

ITV Broadcast

Draft Schedule for Native Fish Restoration Program, NCTC,
December 14-15, 2005.

1:00 – 4:00 PM ET each day

December 14, 2005 (Wednesday)

1:00-1:05. Introduction. Horsch and Pister

1:05-1:25. A history of fish introductions into and within the U.S. Walter R. Courtenay, Jr., Florida Atlantic University (retired) and U.S. Geological Survey (Gainesville); and Pam Fuller, U.S. Geological Survey, Gainesville. (by phone).

1:25-1:45. Roundtail chub restoration and potential. Chris Cantrell, Arizona Game and Fish Department (possibly by phone).

1:45-2:05. Native fish restoration in the national parks and Rocky Mountains. Bruce Rosenlund, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. (possibly by phone).

2:05-2:25. Crater Lake National Park bull trout restoration. Mark Buktenica, U.S. National Park Service, Crater Lake.

2:25-2:45. Apache trout restoration. Stewart Jacks, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

2:45-3:00. Break.

3:00-3:20 “Bring back the natives.” Jack E. Williams, Trout Unlimited.

3:20-3:40. Brook trout restoration in the Smokies. Steve Moore, U.S. National Park Service.

3:40-4:00. Call-ins, emails, FAXes, with responses from panelists, Horsch, Pister, and Michael Nelson, philosophy professor, University of Idaho.

December 15, 2005 (Thursday)

1:00-1:20. Western Trout Initiative, Virgil Moore, Idaho Department of Fish and Game. (possibly by phone).

1:20-1:40. Gila trout recovery program. Jim Brooks, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

1:40-2:00. California golden trout restoration and management. Phil Pister, Desert Fishes Council and California Department of Fish and Game (retired).

2:00-2:15. Break.

2:15-2:35. Upper Colorado River endangered fish recovery program (Colorado pikeminnow, razorback sucker, humpback chub, etc. Angela Kantola, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (by phone).

2:35-2:55. Silvery minnow recovery efforts. Jim Brooks, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

2:55-3:15. Summary, from a philosopher's perspective. Michael Nelson, University of Idaho.

3:15-4:00. Call-ins, emails, FAXes, with responses from panelists, Horsch, Pister, and Nelson.

END OF PROGRAM

Phil Pister
Bishop, CA
October 31, 2005